To Whom it may concern:

I am writing in regard to postal service, in response to the inquiry by the federal government, Canada Post Corporation Strategic Review. There are many reasons why, after 55 years in this village, I implore you, not to change our present postal service, and say an emphatic no to postal ^{de}regulation.

I understand that postal deregulation in other countries has led to post office closures, less service, fewer jobs, and higher postal rates, for the public and small ~~business~~ businesses.

As a senior, I am sure I am speaking for many others, who are also on fixed incomes, and would be unable to communicate with friends and families, at home and abroad, if there were a raise in postage rates.

With no bus service, computers, and an inability to drive, a person relies on being able to ~~send~~ ^{mail} greeting cards, letters and parcels locally. Please, please, do not do anything to deprive us of our present postal service.

Thanking you,

Yours Sincerely,

Norma E. Bremner

Please excuse errors

P.S. Our inside hot provision is also a real bonus, to those who must walk to pick up mail. It provides a place to 'warm up' in the winter.
