To Whom It May Concern:

Please, no deregulation on postal services. My husband and I are seniors. We live in a rural area. We live 18 km from the Callander post office. If there were no mail service out here, it would be a real hardship for us.

We depend on the mail. It is a life line to us and our friends and family. We are not computer literate, nor are our friends, so we need the mail service to keep in touch.

If we had to go to Callander to get our mail, that would be a challenge in the winter with precarious road conditions due to ice & snow.

Please consider all angles, not just the bottom line when making these decisions as to the impact of many thousands of Canadians especially the Seniors.

Sincerely

Wally & Mary Wilkes
